Marston, Gardner, Ward and Peacock Survive in Invitation Tourney.

FENN SPRINGS SURPRISE

Fails to Qualify in First Sixteen, but Shows Rare Form in Match Play.

By INNIS BROWN.

No jarring surprises marked the first fay's match play in the invitation ent now in progress at the Apaals Country Club, at least among who landed in the first sixteen in the qualifying round. The tendency was loward youthful supremacy in weeding BOBBY JONES LOSES out the field to the four semi-finalists. However, John M. Ward, the veteran standby of Garden City, intervened to keep the youngsters from restricting the third round of play entirely to their own nated by Whitney, 7 and 6. select cira'e.

Possibly the victory of Grant A. Pea-cock of Prissecton over T. Val Berming-ham of Wykagyl bordered nearest on a surprise of the day's happenings.

whitney of New Orleans defeated Bobby Jones, 1917 of Atlanta 7 up and 6, and a surprise of the day's happenings among the upper crust. A three handicap man in the Metropolitan Association and a sterling match player, Bermingham would no doubt have been considered favorite in this match. However, his health has been bad of late and he has played but little, this being his first tournamma appearance of the season. On the other hand Peacock has been playing very excellent golf right along and served to warn of what might be expected later. Hence, when he turned the first nine in his match with Bermingham one up those familiar with his play were not surprised. The next him play were not surprised. The next his play were not surprised. The next him play have not surprised to the play of the followed just a bit later by running down another put almost across the green for a bird 3 and play and play

Inished off W. F. Ladd of Rockaway

He finished off W. F. Ladd of Rockaway 4 and 3 in the morning. In the aftermoon he found but little difficulty in eliminating Charles C. Lima. Jr., Mahopao, winning 7 and 6.

In his second match Marston again demonstrated that unfavorable weather conditions hamper his play but little if any at all. He finished the eighteen holes with a card of 72 in spite of the fact that a driviling rain was falling practically throughout the match. He was out in 36 and stood 5 up at the turn. A 3 on both the eleventh and twelfth ended the match. His card follows:

whiteenth. He won the lifteenth and held his advantage from there in.

W. H. Gardner of Buffalo, the other semi-finalist, came through his two matches rather handliy. He beat Fred R. Hill of Canoe Brook in the opener 3 and 2, and then bumped off Bert T. Allen of Fox Hills with an abruptness indicated by a 5 and 4 score. The latter reported that the Buffalo was reserved. reported that the Buffalo man was going at a cyclonic gait throughout the round

What proved the keenest surprise of the day developed in the second sixteen.

H. B. Fenn, Ridgewood Country Club champion, who failed to land in the first eixteen on Thursday with an 87 for the round, found his best stride when he round, found his best stride when he entered match play. In the morning round he led E. C. Stevens of St. Andrew's home, flabbergasted by a count of 8 and 7. Fenn was out in 37, leading 6 up, and ended the match by clicking off a pair of is on the tenth and

W. P. Taylor of Gedney Farms and won 5 and 4. Taylor shaped up a 39 for his outward fourney, only to find himself 5 down at the turn. Fenn had reeled off down at the turn. Fern had received off a 34, the star performance of the tournament. His trip home wasn't so brilliant, but he finished the round with a 75. He was in the brook twice on the eleventh and took a 7. His card follows:

The semi-final round will bring to-gether Mars'on and Gardner in the up-per half of the bracket, while Ward capture the entire tournament by winning the finals in the match play.

Walker won his way to the finals this afternoon by defeating T. B. Davis, Yale, in the semi-finals, 5 up and 3 to play, while Dean had little trouble in disposing of R. H. Wales, Harvard, in his semi-final match over the east course of the Merion Cricket Club.

A rather peculiar coincidence of the match play is that Walker, who meets Dean in the finals, was the only man to the Columbia team to qualify in the semi-final match to the control of the match play is that Walker, who meets Dean in the finals, was the only man to the Columbia team to qualify in the semi-final match over the cast course of the finals, was the only man to the Columbia team to qualify in the semi-final match play is that walker, who meets Dean in the finals, was the only man to the Columbia team to qualify in the semi-final match play is that walker, who meets Dean in the finals, was the only man to the columbia team to the finals and the semi-final match over the east course of the final match over the east course of the Merion Cricket Club.

Weakfish in Jamaica Bay. Phil Wurster of the Jolly Four Flahing Cidb, with Doc Dedin and Joseph Helbock on Wednesday with Capt. Dolph Clins of Old Mill, caught thirty-nine weakfish in Jamaica Bay ranging in weight from two and a haif to five ponds each.

Weaks and Crabs at Goose Creek In the semi-finals were from Penn, and the outsider, D. Jones of Harvard, was beaten by R. K. Hanson, who had advanced to the penultimate round by drawing byes in the lower half of the bracket.

After Walker had disposed of Davis in the second round played in the morning interest was largely centred in Dean's match with Wales. Rain fell most of the morning and during the greater part of the afternoon, but the spite of the fact that the fairways and greens were slow the simportant matches of the day were both well played and well contested. I want to call the attention of the Park Commissioner to the large number of stray cats that infest the public parks and the numbers will be greatly increased as people close their homes for the sum-mer and turn the cats out to shift for themselves. The cats are destructive to birds, especially now, when young birds are beginning to fly.
